We are very pleased to invite you to participate with us in the 2nd World Congress on Women's Mental Health, which will take place in Washington D.C., USA, on March 17-20, 2004 at the newly renovated Marriott Wardman Park Hotel.

Substantial strides for improvement of women's well-being and mental health can now be recognized, but much, much more is needed. In some areas the initial step has been taken. Progress in knowledge about women's biological and psychosocial issues, disorders and treatment is impressive, but this is only a beginning.

Changing social priorities, increasing advocacy for women's equality and well-being are promising improvements, but promises should be fulfilled and materialized.

Our goal in the 2nd World Congress is to present and discuss comprehensive, updated, well-rounded knowledge on women's mental health. However, first and foremost, we hope to suggest practical, achievable directions for the near future. The complementary goal (which is of utmost importance for achievement) will be increased awareness and education.

The questions to be answered are: "what is current, what should be done, and how?"

The context will be the social- political- cultural- economic reality.

The destination point will be the individual's well-being and her mental health.

State-of-the-art developments in biopsychosocial aspects of women's mental health, psychology, psychopharmacology and other treatments will be center stage, but the driving forces will be integration and practical day-to-day relevance and solutions.

The Congress main presenters will be opinion leaders in professional, biomedical and social science disciplines involving women's well-being and mental health, as well as policy and decision-makers who are integral to change.

Physicians, scientists, mental health professionals, women's health practitioners, women's advocates and women who are interested in their own well-being and mental health are invited to present, opine, participate and listen. You are sure to find topics of interest in one of many program tracks.

The Congress is a partnership of people from multiple disciplines, several organizations and people with diverse interests. Our common denominator, our integrative force, is the wish to improve women's mental health. We, along with the Scientific Program Committee and the Washington Organizing Committee, hope that you will be part of this exciting Congress event.

We look forward to seeing you in Washington D.C. in March 2004.

GENERAL INFORMATION

DATE

March 17-20, 2004

LOCATION

Washington, DC, USA

Washington DC is the United States Capital. Indeed, it is the center of government and political power. As a thriving metropolis, it is a fascinating, lively city that combines some of the grandest monuments with colorful, diverse homes and neighborhoods.

It is a tourist magnet full of numerous attractions.

Political showcases? – The Capitol, White House and the imposing marble temples of institutes of power.

Cultural gems? – The National Gallery, the many museums of the Smithsonian Institution and numerous other galleries and museums, the Kennedy Center of the Performing Arts, the National Symphony, opera, theater and music venues.

Monuments? – Lincoln, Washington, Jefferson, the Vietnam Memorial and others clustered around the Capitol and beyond.

The fascinating fact about Washington is that it is a very comfortable town that has not lost its human touch. You can walk through streets full of people (some of them even smile), small cafes and restaurants, boutiques (not necessarily cheap), urban parks with children and joggers, and by night, nightclubs and other entertainment on a human scale.

Do you want science? The National Institutes of Health are here, as well as the National Academies and some prestigious universities.

We just hope that with the richness of the environment you will still find time for the Congress...

THE VENUE

Marriott Wardman Park Hotel

The Marriott Wardman Park Hotel is located in a historic Washington setting in a prestigious neighborhood (among others – minutes from the National Cathedral and the National Zoo – what a diverse combination...). It is a perfect balance of landmark charm, modern sophistication and functionality. The convention facilities can accommodate 2,500 active participants and special discounted room rates have been negotiated.

Housing reservations can be made either on-line at www.womenmentalhealth.com or by calling 202-328-2900. Special Congress rates are available for reservations made up until February 10, 2004. After this date, rooms may not be available or may not be reserved at special Congress rates.

RESERVE YOUR HOTEL ROOM BY FEBRUARY 10 AND YOU JUST MIGHT WIN A FREE ROOM AND A FREE REGISTRATION! All reservations made at the Marriott Wardman Park Hotel within the official Congress reservations will not only qualify you for special discounted rates but will also make you eligible for the GRAND PRIZE DRAWING to be held at the Opening Ceremony on Wednesday, March 17, 2004. The winner will receive their Marriott room FREE for up to four nights during the Congress and a FREE registration to the Congress.

ACCESS

With its ideal mid-Atlantic location and comprehensive air and rail service, it's easy to get to Washington, DC. CLIMATE

The Congress will take place just when spring officially arrives. Early spring weather is usually mild during the day with a possibility of a chill in the air in the evening (this is a Washington “chill” – everything is relative). Daytime temperatures average 54 °F or 12 °C, which may drop to 36 °F or 2 °C at night.

LANGUAGE

The official language of the Congress is English.

CME AND CE ACCREDITATION

This program has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and Policies of the Accreditation Council for CME (ACCME) through joint sponsorship with the State University of New York (SUNY) at Buffalo School of Medicine and Biomedical Sciences and the International Association for Women’s Mental Health. The SUNY at Buffalo is accredited by the ACCME to sponsor CME for physicians. The University at Buffalo designates this program for up to 19.5 Category 1 credits toward the AMA’s Physician Recognition Award. Each physician should claim only the actual time he/she spent in educational activities.

The program has been reviewed and approved by American Psychological Association’s Office of Continuing Education in Psychology. The APA’s Office of Continuing Education in Psychology maintains responsibility for the program content.

Certification of Attendance is included in registration fee.

DON'T MISS THE EXCITING CLOSING CEREMONY & DINNER, AN EXCLUSIVE EVENT AT THE SMITHSONIAN'S NATIONAL MUSEUM OF AMERICAN HISTORY ON SATURDAY, MARCH 20.

The National Museum of American History, Behring Center traces American heritage through exhibitions of social, cultural, scientific and technological history. Collections are displayed in exhibitions that interpret the American experience from Colonial times to the present. The Museum collects, cares for, and preserves over three million artifacts. They watch over everything from George Washington's field tent and the original Star-Spangled Banner to Ford's 1913 Model-T and Dorothy's ruby slippers from The Wizard of Oz. The Museum's collections document our national heritage in technology, industrial development, military history, transportation, textiles, costume, domestic life, sport, the arts, and community life. Ancient coins, racing cars, inaugural gowns of America's first ladies, musical instruments, weaponry, farm machinery, the portable desk Thomas Jefferson used while drafting the Declaration of Independence, and much more form a vast and fascinating mosaic of American life.
